PEDONESI IS PLACED ON TRIAL IN COUNTY COURT

Selecting Jury To Hear Facts In Dukes' Case

Angelo Pedonesi Goes On Trial On Murder Charge
In County Court

PLEADS NOT GUILTY
AS TRIAL OPENS

Selection Of Jury Progresses—Six In Jury
Box At Noon Recess

JURORS ACCEPTED
Orlando Fitzhugh, laborer,
First ward.
Oscar Hutchison, laborer,
Little Beaver township.
Helen Cunningham, housekeeper, Slippery Rock township.
Thomas Waring, miner,
Slippery Rock township.
Harry Park, clerk, Seventh Ward.
Mrs. D. T. Beerhaver, farmer,
Wilmington township.

At the noon recess of court in court room number two today, six jurors had been selected for the trial of Angelo Pedonesi of Cleveland, O., charged with the murder of Policeman
Robert H. Dukes. Dukes died on February 13 as the result of injuries received on February 9 when two men engaged in a fight with him on Moravia street.

Pedonesi was arraigned at 9:20 o'clock following the polling of the panel of jurors. Standing before the court with hand raised he pleaded
"not guilty" and following the usual form asked for a trial by "God and his country". With him were his attorneys Edwin K. Logan of New Castle and James C. Connell of Cleveland, O.

Fair Proportion

From the average maintained in the morning session it appears likely that a jury will be selected from the panel of 70 men and women summoned. Of this number, seven failed to appear at the opening of court today. None of those pres-

PA NEW OBSERVES

Complaint is made to Pa New by a resident of the district, of the condition of the lot at the corner of East Washington street and Pearson street. The complaint says that the lot seems to have become sort of a public dumping ground,
and the condition should be remedied.

From the number of kites seen hanging in trees and on wires around the city, the kite flying season must be in full progress.

State patrolmen seemed to be devoting a lot of attention to the Perry highway in the Harlansburg to Mercer area yesterday afternoon.

There are no new detours in the western Pennsylvania district, according to the Detroit Bulletin of the Pennsylvania state highway system for the period ending March 19. The bulletin is on display in the lobby of The News.

Unimproved roads and lanes in the country districts are rather difficult to travel these days. Many autos are noted parked in these mud roads, just off the improved highways, evidently no effort being made to traverse the mud.

Daily Weather Report

U. S. weather reports for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning follow:

Minimum temperature, 27.
No precipitation.
River stage, 6.4 feet.

Statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock Sunday morning
are as follows:
Maximum temperature, 47.
Minimum temperature, 23.
No precipitation.

Report Quake Shock In San Francisco

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—A sharp earthquake of several seconds duration rocked San Francisco today.

The quake shook downtown buildings to and fro at 2:32 a. m.

A quick checkup revealed no damage.

The quake apparently centered over a wide area.

It was sharply felt in the East Bay region.

Police headquarters in San Francisco and Oakland reported they received numerous telephone calls, but none was for aid.

Windows and doors were severely rattled in residential districts.
Lights could be seen turned on
in numerous homes as sleeping occupants were awakened.

Sit-Down Strikers Remain At Plant

There was no change in conditions at the plant of the National Paints company, on the Butler road, where strikers went on strike Saturday morning, and pending a settlement of wage differences are staging a sit-down strike.

Indications this afternoon pointed to the fact that negotiations between the heads of the company and employees may be held up longer than was at first anticipated, due to the inability of the members of the firm to get here. Manager L.
B. Pilzer state this afternoon that he had received word from J. Alpert, of Washington, one of the members of the firm stating that he was ill, and could not get here for several days. He stated that there would be no attempt made to settle wage differences until the firm heads get here.

Real Day Of Rest
Sunday proved a real day of rest
to the employees who locked themselves in Saturday morning, refusing to leave the plant, until a settlement of their wage differences had been made.

The workers had adjusted themselves to conditions by this time and committees were named to police the plant and look out for the comfort and welfare of the employees
during their self-imposed internment.

The men and women have segregated themselves, the women taking
the north portion of the building, nearest the Butler road, while the men hold forth in the southern portion of the plant.

Relatives Come To Aid
Until late Saturday evening, and all day Sunday, visitors thronged to the plant when the news of the strike became public. Relatives brought them pillows and blankets
Saturday evening, and at meal time, baskets and packages of food were

Starting Final Phases Of Trial

Margiotti Calling Last Witnesses In Prosecution
Of Sanute

COUNTY CORONER
AGAIN TO TESTIFY

(International News Service)
SOMERSET, Pa., March 8.—Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, the special prosecutor, today launched into the final phases of the murder case against State Trooper Anthony Sanute of Freeland.

He called witnesses to testify concerning activities allegedly to "cover up" the death of Frank C. Monaghan in the Bertillon room of the Fayette county courthouse on the night of September 12.

Among those called for this testimony was Dr. S. A. Baltz, the Fayette county coroner and himself
one of the five men indicted as accessories in the case. Dr. Baltz was called again to testify that none of the seven men indicted for murder had told him they inflicted any injuries on Monaghan.

Drawing his case to a conclusion,
Margiotti summoned the last of the
"ear witnesses" who told of groans
and pleas emanating from the room.
They repeated the testimony already given at the trial of State Trooper Stacey Gunderman who was found guilty of second degree murder.

Orley Jackson, night superintendent of the courthouse, told of giving Assistant District Attorney Harry Byrne, one of the murder defendants, a mop between 2:30 and 3 a. m. in the morning. Margiotti contends this mop was used to wipe away blood from Monaghan's body which had splattered over the Ber-tillon room while he was being questioned.

Boy, Five, Has Confessed To Killing Girl

Boy Says Companion Helped As Little Beverly Ann Page Was Stoned
To Death

OFFICIALS CAN NOT PROSECUTE

(International News Service)
WINDSOR, Vt., March 8.—The confession of a five year old boy
that he was the killer of four year old Beverly Ann Page presented authorities here with a baffling problem today.

The boy told them, police said,
that he and a companion a little older than himself beat and stoned the little girl, dragged her into a creek, and held her under water
while they stoned her body.
The other boy was said to have denied any part in the attack on the girl.

"We don't know what to do about it," state's attorney Albion Parker declared. "Never in the state's history have we had a case where a little child has confessed to a fiendish and almost unbelievable murder."

What To Do
"But what can we do with the child—too young to be arrested or prosecuted, too young to know the meaning of this horrible act. If we find that the other boys were involved, they too are beyond prosecution because of their youth. All of the boys are of good families, and the act was beyond control of their parents. So far as the law is concerned, we are helpless.

The mother of the slain girl, who bore a second daughter last Monday and is in a hospital, has been told that her child was drowned, but has been spared the details of her fate.

Skilled Steel Workers Given Wage Increase

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 8.—With chief interest concentrated in the aluminum industry, opposing labor factions prepared today for a fight to the finish after a week end of skirmishing that netted gains for both the John L. Lewis and anti-CIO groups.

Meantime, the gigantic steel industry, original focal point in the wage controversy, began to drop out of the picture after granting concessions or indicating willingness to meet wage revision demands.

The last conciliatory move on the part of the steel-producing industry was Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation's extension in its wage expansion program. The corporation granted a flat 10-cents-an-hour raise for all skilled and semi-skilled workers as a follow-up to its previously announced $5 a day minimum for common labor and a 40-hour week for all.

The announcement of the new wage revision was made to a group of "company union" representatives who had entered negotiations with the corporation in an effort to forestall sweeping gains won by the SWOC.

Other steel concerns will probably follow in the pathway opened by Carnegie-Illinois, experts here predicted freely.

Prosecutor In Los Angeles Will Recover

Buron Fitts Wounded
When Fired Upon While
In His Auto

WOUND RECEIVED
IN LEFT FOREARM

Cause Of Attack On District
Attorney At Los Angeles
Is Mystery

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—
Waylaid and shot on a lonely
road on the city's outskirts, Buron Fitts, fighting Los Angeles district attorney and former lieutenant-governor of California, was reported in no danger early today.

One of several men in a parked automobile fired at the prosecutor as he drove alone in his car, the bullet piercing Fitts' left forearm.
The assailants fled precipitately as Fitts, greatly weakened by loss of blood, staggered to the nearby home of his parents, whom he had intended to visit.

Underworld Vengeance?
Except to lean to a probability of underworld vengeance, authorities were unable to ascribe a definite motive for the attack, which occurred early last night.

According to a statement made to International News Service early today by William E. Simpson, chief deputy district attorney, Fitts' residence has been guarded since he received several threats due to his activities in the Douglas Aircraft plant strike.

Simpson pointed out, however,

Detroit Girl Found Slain

Brutal Murder Of Bernice Onisko, Stirs Police Officials In Manhunt

WAS ATTACKED
THEN MURDERED

(International News Service)
DETROIT, March 8.—Climaxing
a wave of attacks on women, the brutal murder of a 17-year-old Hamtramck girl spurred the police hunt for morons today.

The slain girl, who had been critically attacked by Bernice Onisko, one of the five children of Mrs. Cecilia Onisko, a widow.

It was the first slaying of its type in the Detroit area since Merton
Ward Goodrich killed 11-year-old Lillian Gallagher.

Bernice's mutilated body was found early Sunday in a yard at the rear of a Hamtramck home, little more than 150 feet from her own front door.

Had Been Attacked
Nearby was her prayerbook, a rosary
and a coin purse containing 11 pennies. She had been attacked, it developed later, while returning from mission services and confession at St. Stanislaus Roman Catholic church.

Police quickly arrested two suspects, one a negro, as Hamtramck residents gathered on street corners excitedly discussing the crime and in many cases muttering threats of lynching.

Two Killed When Train Hits Auto

(International News Service)
WHEELING, W. Va., March 8.—
Two men who had been attending a family reunion at Tridelfia, 12 miles east of here, were instantly killed early today when their auto was struck by a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train at a crossing. They were Clarence Smith, 28, and Michael Prokop, 32, both of McKeesport,

Discharge Of Target Rifle Proves Fatal

James Dottle, Of West
Pittsburg Road, Fatally
Wounded By Brother
Sunday

GUN DISCHARGED
AS BOLT STICKS

James Dottle, aged 27, of R. F. D.
No. 7, the West Pittsburg road, was fatally injured about 5:30 o'clock
Sunday afternoon, when a 22 calibre target rifle which was being used by his brother, Albert Dottle, aged 23, of 10 Montgomery avenue
was discharged, the bullet severing
the large artery just over his heart.
He died enroute to the New Castle hospital, where he was taken by the brother and two friends in his own car. The accident took place near West Pittsburg.

According to the story told by the group to Coroner Orville Potter, the two Dottle brothers, with Peter L.
Russo, of 109 South Liberty street,
and Peter Rotunno, of 214 South Liberty street, had gone to a spot about a quarter of a mile north of West Pittsburg, where there is a range patronized by residents of
that community, to engage in target practice.

Standing Near Target

They had been there about an hour and a half, it was stated. James Dottle was standing near the target and was calling out the shots to his companions. His brother Albert had stepped up to shoot and as he did so,
the bolt on the rifle jammed, it was said, and when he pushed the bolt down forcibly, where there is a range patronized by residents of
that community, to engage in target practice.

They placed the injured man in his car and hurried to the New Castle hospital. He was pronounced dead on arrival.

The deceased had been employed by the B. and O. railroad as a section worker, while his brother is a WPA worker, it is stated.

Albert Dottle was craned with grief
by the accident, which terminated
what had been intended as a pleasurable outing by the group.

Mr. Dottle is survived by his wife,
Mary Russo Dottle, one son, James,
one daughter, Jeannette, his father,
Bennie Dottle, four brothers, Frank,
Albert, Henry and Louis Dottle, and two sisters, Mrs. Rosie Thomas and Mary Dottle, all in this vicinity.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

New Strike In Plant At Flint

About 6400 Workers Thrown Out Of Employment As 400 To 600 Sit-Down

(International News Service)
FLINT, Mich., March 8.—Approximately 6,400 General Motors workers were thrown out of work today
by a stay-in-strike of between 400
and 600 men in a key plant of the Chevrolet Motor company here.

The strike occurred in Chevrolet plant No. 4, affecting 4,000 men there. Because that plant is one of the key units, plants No. 5, 8 and 9
of the Chevrolet company had to be shut down, throwing a total of 2,400 others into idleness.

Operations continued, however, in Chevrolet plants No. 2, 6 and 10, including final assembly lines.
The latter plants employ a total of 8,000 men.

Cause of the strike this morning
was reported by union spokesmen to be alleged discrimination against union workers. There was no disorders as the new strike was called.

Detroit, March 8.—The General Motors corporation will make no agreement with the United Automobile Workers union at the collective bargaining conference here until the union ends the strike which closed four Chevrolet plants at Flint, high G. M. spokesmen indicated today.

Actor Missing After Ship Party

MURIEL OXFORD FRANK VOSPER

Disappearance of Frank Vosper, 37, British actor and author, who vanished from the liner Paris after a party in the stateroom of Muriel Oxford, 22, "Miss Great Britain" last year, has baffled English authorities.
Vosper disappeared from the liner a few hours before it arrived at Plymouth, England, from New York. Miss Oxford denied that Vosper had threatened to "jump overboard" if she did not promise to marry him, as another passenger, unnamed, was quoted as saying. While in the U. S.
Miss Oxford went to Hollywood to undergo film tests.

St. David's Day Is Celebrated

Welsh Gather On Saturday Night At Central Christian Church

REV. WILLIAMS IS SPECIAL SPEAKER

"That the spirit of Wales lives in America," much of it right here in
New Castle, was strongly evidenced Saturday evening, in Central Christian church on Long avenue, when several hundred people of American as well as Welsh descent gathered in celebration of St. David's Day.

A banquet was the first procedure,
followed by a skillfully arranged program in charge of the able toastmaster, Henry H. Davies. The banquet was under the auspices of the Star of Wales and Martha Lodges of New Castle.

Group singing in the native tongue
was heard throughout the program
under the expert leadership of Griff Thomas. Introduction of city, county and state officials and chairman of committee, and officers of the lodges was made at this time by the toastmaster. Upon introduction, David Harris, president of Star of Wales Lodge spoke, and was followed by remarks from Mrs. Ernest Trehan, president of the Martha Lodge.

The banquet program featured Jackie Rees, talented boy soprano, from Wales. He was introduced at this time and rendered several vocal selections both in Welsh dialect
and in the American language.

A telegram from which the quotation at the beginning of this article was taken, was read to the group. It was addressed to Rees T. Williams and was from Aubrey Neil Morgan, who is a brother-in-law of Colonel

Wally Simpson Leaves Cannes

In Company With Mrs. Herman L. Rogers, Wally Leaves Cannes Today

(International News Service)
CANNES, France, March 8.—Reported bound for an extended "vac-cation" trip, Mrs. Wallis Warfield
Simpson drove away from the Villa
Lou Viei today in the company of Mrs. Herman L. Rogers of New York, her Riviera hostess.

Her departure was cloaked in the same mystery which has enveloped all her movements. Even the license plates of her American limousine had been changed, apparently in the hope of eluding pursuers.

Steamer Attacked By

ADMIRALTY LATER

Second Announcement Fails

First Reports

the Bay of Biscay. It was stated in a Reuter dispatch from Bor-

LONDON, March 8.—A mysterious mishap overtook
an unnamed British steamer
in the Bay of Biscay today,
necessitating dispatch of S.
O. S. signals which the admiralty first announced indicated she was being attacked by an unidentified warship.

Suddenly and without explanation, the admiralty altered its first announcement, stating official information reading it declared the ship merely was afire and that there was no mention of its being attacked.

Identity Unknown

There was no immediate clue to the vessel's identity and the admiralty's second announcement failed to disclose grounds for its first belief the ship had been attacked.

First reports said the ship was the Elder-Dempster liner Ad-da, but these two later were corrected by the admiralty. Owners of the Ad-da said none of their vessels is in the Bay of Biscay.

One report gave the ship's name
as Edda. However, the only British craft of that name is a small whaler unequipped with wireless.

Portersville Girl Struck By Auto

Accident Occurs On Saturday Afternoon—Brought To
New Castle Hospital

Dawn Louise Neiper, aged three,
of Portersville, is confined to the New Castle hospital with both legs fractured and abrasions, the result of being struck by an auto operated by Miss Mary E. Link, Portersville
R. D. 2, at Portersville, about 3:05

According to the investigating officer, Miss Link was driving north on route 19 when the little girl ran from the west side to the east side of the road, and then at the embankment turned and started to run from the east side to the west side of the road and was struck by the car.

The accident occurred in front of Squire Lardin's office, according to

SEE BIG REBEL OFFENSIVE

Expect Madrid Drive To Start

Fate Of City Will Be Decided By Offensive Now Being Planned

LOYALISTS BLOW UP RIVER BRIDGE

By THOMAS A. LOAYZA
International News Service Staff Correspondent
MADRID, March 8.—Loyalist troops, after beating off two rebel attacks, today, blew up a bridge across the Manzanares river, then encircled insurgent forces in University City, the only rebel foothold in Madrid proper after four months' siege.

Fighting around Madrid, intense as it was, is regarded as a prelude for the biggest rebel offensive of the war, which is expected to decide the fate of the capital. Generalissimo Francisco Franco has been massing many thousands of troops behind the rebel lines, and his smashing attack is looked for within the next few days.

In an attempt to take some of the sting out of the anticipated offensive, Gen. Jose Miaja, head of the Madrid defense forces, announced he personally would lead the drives against Toledo and Talavera de la Reina, where the loyalists now threaten rebel lines of communication.

Non-Intervention To Start
With foreign non-interventionist control of Spain's frontiers and coasts due to begin at the end of this week, the rebels today intensified rebel warfare and, according to Gibraltar reports, forced two

Norwegian steamers into the rebel port of Cuetra, Morocco, to discharge their cargoes there.

The vessels were the Erica and Breidablik. Rebel armed trawlers stopped the British freighter Springwear in the straits of Gibraltar and ordered her to proceed to Cuetra, but the Springwear fled to Gibraltar.

No Soviet steamers in future will be allowed to enter Spanish ports, Gen. Queipo de Llano announced in a Seville broadcast.

Rebels captured two loyalist steamers laden with ammunition and volunteers in the Mediterranean and seized four trawlers bearing ammunition in the Bay of Biscay, he said.

Insurgents twice attacked University City during the night, a Madrid communique said, but each time the assault failed, the rebels retreating in disorder with heavy losses.

The loyalists then penetrated the enemy's lines and blew up the Manzanares bridge. A desperate rebel effort to regain their lost ground was beaten back, after which the government lines around University City were linked, cutting off the insurgents there.

brought to the plant and passed in through the windows.

It is estimated that several thousand people visited the spot Sunday, and it was necessary to block the road leading into the plant to avoid traffic congestion, and to keep undesirable away.

Saturday afternoon, representatives of a workers organization went to the scene and entered the plant through the windows, it is reported. During an altercation with Manager L. B. Pilzer, over custody of the plant office where the telephone is located, Mr. Pilzer was cut on the hand by broken glass from the door. Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard was summoned and removed the representatives from the building.

John Sobczak, organizer of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers for the Western Pennsylvania district, has arrived here and is in charge of organizing the workers. Religious services took place Sunday, several ministers and representatives of the Salvation Army visiting the plant, where they were admitted by the manager and workers.

Included in this group were Capt. Bevan and wife, of the Salvation Army, Rev. A. P. Shaffer, of the West Pittsburg M. E. church, H. L. Johnson, of the Simpson M. E. church, and Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, of the Central Christian church. They were accompanied by singers, and several religious services were held during the day, was stated.

In addition, the workers had an orchestra visit the plant, and dancing was enjoyed by those not so religiously inclined.

The workers are comfortable and contented, they stated this morning, and are awaiting the arrival of the heads of the company, J. Albert and C. L. Pilzer, of Washington, D. C., who are expected to arrive today or tomorrow to begin negotiations with the employees.

The light, heat, and water in the plant are on continually, and in spite of rumors that some of the employees have left through the windows and returned to their homes, representatives of the workers insist that they are still one hundred per cent on the job, but not working.

Mickey Solomon has been elected as chairman of the plant committee to represent the workers. Both

Letting Facts Speak About Funeral Costs

Because the Leyde Funeral Home is finer and better equipped some people may have jumped to the conclusion that funeral costs here are necessarily high. That conclusion would be wrong. Of course it costs money to maintain such a well equipped establishment, but volume regulates funeral costs just as it does mercantile or manufacturing cost.

Many families prefer Leyde Funeral Service. The result is that all patrons of Leyde Service get more in service, appearance and value for their money. As indisputable evidence of this fact and as a matter of public information we print the following tabulation as shown by our books:

OUR RECORD OF CHARGES

Statement of the cost of 210 Consecutive Adult Funerals:

7 Funerals cost $150 or less
18 " from $151 to $200
66 " " $201 to $300
47 " " $301 to $400
39 " " $401 to $500
21 " " $501 to $600

The prices shown cover our entire charges. The only further cost of these funerals was the amount paid to the cemetery for the grave. Many of these funerals were held in our funeral home. There is no extra charge for use of either the funeral home or the pipe organ.

Leyde Funeral Service is available to every family in New Castle or vicinity. We have served people of all faiths and creeds.

LAWRENCE CHAPTER OF D. A. R. AT BALPH HOME

CHARLENE VOGAN HONORED SATURDAY

Mrs. James Vogan opened her home on Sheridan avenue to a group of twenty little boys and girls Saturday afternoon, as a medium of honoring her daughter, Charlene, it being her seventh birthday anniversary.

The hours were kept lively with a varied program of games and stunts with prizes going to the winners. At 6 o'clock, they were seated about a banquet table, attractively decorated in St. Patrick suggestions, combined with a theme of pink and green, where dinner was served. A large tiered cake, lighted with tiny candles, graced the center. Novel favors, paper hats and balloons were distributed at this time, adding further to the merriment of the occasion.

Mrs. Vogan was assisted by Mrs. Fred Schepple, Miss Charlotte Emery and Miss Jeannette Vogan, with festivities.

A collection of lovely gifts, was received by Charlene, as mementos of the happy event.

Assembly At Epworth M. E.

The Epworth M. E. church was the scene of the regular session of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of that church, Friday afternoon.

Meeting opened with devotionals under the leadership of Mrs. W. J. Marshall and a stewardship service under the direction of Mrs. George Forrest.

Prayer service was led by Mrs. Maude Montgomery and Mrs. J. E. Jackson.

The birthday anniversary of Mrs. Robert Russell was honored by the members at this meeting. Mrs. H. E. Marshall in a very interesting manner, reviewed a chapter from the study book, "Congo Crosses." A report from the world day of prayer, a meeting which was held in the Highland church last week, was given by Mrs. Ray Muder.

Meeting closed with prayer by the group, and later they were invited to the dining room of the church where they were served a delicious dinner.

The following committee members had places laid for 25 members: Mrs. M. J. Hamilton, Mrs. M. W. Calderwood, Mrs. C. E. Jones and Mrs. William Scott.

Knock-About Club

A group of girls met at the home of Miss Bette Delp, Martin street, for the purpose of forming into a club. After rules and regulations were discussed, it was decided they would be identified as the Knock-About club.

Officers elected included Jeanne Taylor, president; Jerry Sanford, secretary; Twila McElroy, treasurer. Games and dancing were the pastimes and refreshments were served at a later hour by the hostesses. Their next meeting will be held April 7 at the home of Jeanne Taylor, 310 Vine street.

Mahoning Book Club

Mrs. A. R. Mearns, of 508 West Clayton street, will receive members of the Mahoning Book club in her home Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. This is not the regular meeting, the change being necessitated due to the activities of the S. C. W. Bible class of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church this week.

FOR HOME CONSUMPTION

'SAFE' from the United States for a period of three years! That is the promise held out to the Diet by Japan's naval overlord in the event they are successful in jamming through their scheduled naval appropriations. The corollary is "we'll be back again with our tin cup three years hence."

Possible attack by a United States that is preaching international amity through trade agreements is, of course, the shoddiest of bogies to hold up before the Japanese people. It is not, however, the truth, but the effectiveness of this propaganda that will count. With Japan, which pulled out of the five-power 10-10-7 naval agreement because denied full parity with the United States and Great Britain, arming to the teeth by land and by sea, there is a cause for world concern.

Nationalistic jitters rule the day. Mussolini contemplates for Italy an army system in which all nationals between 18 and 55 shall periodically be called to the colors. By the Fascist Grand Council, as he presses the button, Italy is rushed into the general naval race, at least for the time being. The permitted inference is that this is against possible British aggression, because Britain is spending $7,500,000,000 on replacements and naval extensions.

MORE FREIGHT CARS FOR RECOVERY

Railroad freight loadings constitute one of the most carefully scrutinized barometers of business. When loadings show such a rapid increase as to necessitate buying of more freight cars we have a still more striking sign of recovery.

More new freight cars are now on order than on any corresponding date since 1926. The carriers are waiting for 36,000. In January the roads placed 3172 new cars in service, as compared with 1158 for the same month of 1936. Class I railroads has 362 new steam locomotives ordered. No such order has been placed since 1930.

Employment is helping the railroads and the railroads are helping employment. This is no time for legislation that would impose new and heavy burdens on an industry that is beginning to find a clear track toward recovery and is taking others along with it.

HAIL AND FAREWELL

Gentle Spring is coming on—and then for glamorous Summer. This Winter hasn't been hard, but it's been Winter, and that's always plenty for fellows who like to be out in shorts and slacks. They may put up a brave front, pretending that they're glad to shake hands with zero any old time, but inwardly they're consumed with yearning for the gorgeous glow of Summer's show.

March came in just about neutral. It was too cold for the lamb and not cold enough for the lion. Patches of snow scattered around served as reminders that Winter holds the right of way until March 20, but there was never a sign of wild winds on the sea or lace of ice to make the windows wistful.

All seasons have their attractions, and it's change that makes a drama of life. We in this part of the world are happy in that our seasons present weather contrasts that forbid monotony. Winter is nearing the exit. Spring stands at the threshold. Summer shines just beyond.

STARS OF OTHER YEARS

Many a grandmother will brush away a furtive tear upon reading of the scurvy trick which the merciless economics of late years have played with an old-time idol, a fine figure of a man, tall, straight and handsome, who caused the feminine heart to throb and the eye to gleam with admiration as he stalked the boards a quarter of a century and more ago.

In those days the name of William Faversham was one for the imagination to conjure with. He was the Robert Taylor of his time, a really fine actor and at the same time a personable young gentleman, easy to look upon. His impersonation of the title role of "The Squaw Man" was memorable.

But now, through the irony of events, William Faversham has been installed in the Actor's Home on Long Island, his fortune lost, also his capacity to make his own way in life. Reports indicate, however, that even under adverse circumstances and carrying the load of advancing years, he is a figure of dignity and charm and still retains some of his old power to dazzle.

In these days when there is such great preoccupation with Gable and Garbo, Joan Crawford, Jane Withers and Shirley Temple, it is pleasant to hear a word or two from the theatre's old lost stars. It would be more pleasant, however, if we were to hear that they were living in peace and plenty, in a vine-covered cottage, with a brook running by and a few sheep to add a pastoral touch to the scene.

SOCIAL CREDIT DISCREDITED

The admission of Premier William Aberhart that his Social Credit system has failed in Alberta is a characteristically candid concession of this suave pastor-pedagogue-Premier, and if we have any smiles left after joshing some of our own panacea artists, we can beam benignly on the plump and affable Aberhart without too much finger-pointing. We can even rejoice vicariously with him over his Legislature's defeat, 52-7, of a lack-of-confidence vote, which solid backing in these parlous times is big news.

For it is a serious matter to Alberta, a Province of experiments and idealisms, that a theory which looked fine on paper somehow wouldn't work. Aberhart blames his official family, lack of co-operation and the "strenuous and unyielding opposition" of financial interests and the Dominion Government. He insisted on the right to sell Alberta bonds to banks for real cash, then reduce their printed interest rate or eliminate or default interest entirely, without penalty. He borrowed heavily from Ottawa, then fretted because the Crown tried to supervise investment of this money.

He believed that a two-cent transaction tax would give full and permanent value to printing-press "velocity dollars." He was convinced that men would and could do without money, subsisting only on deposit slips representing "credit" which could never become actual cash. He was asked that individualism, ambition, rivalry and other human qualities could not yield to a beautiful communal accord. He isn't the first theorist to be so disappointed.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

And now it is disclosed that Trotzky once served as a film extra.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SCHOOL VISITS ADVISED

The teacher often finds occasion to send a note by the child to his parents. It may be informational about equipment the child needs, about some change in the school program, or invitation to the parents to attend some public school function.

But most notes written to parents by teachers have to do with the child's behavior. Usually they point out some delinquencies of the youngster, expecting or commanding the parents to change the child's behavior, about as if a doctor were to tell them to give him three pills morning and evening.

A mother writes me: "I have two or three notes a week in this line. Kenneth teases the girls; Kenneth wrote on the school building; 'Please make Kenneth obey his teacher.' Kenneth is lazy, so that he finishes his work."

A discerning child may throw such a note away. Even if it is mailed it will do more harm than good. A visit by the teacher with the parent might do better. This visit would be bad, however, if it carried the purport of the note.

Such a note by the teacher assumes that it is the business of the parent while home to manage the child while at school; that, moreover, the parent should punish the child at home for his misdeeds while with the teacher, even commanding him to be interested in his work at school. Any teacher with proper training in psychology would not be so foolish.

See the Teacher. Suppose you received such a note. Go to see the teacher, or reply by mail, courteously. Make clear to her that you will assume that while the child is at school the school will manage him as it sees fit. Don't have court trials at home about the alleged delinquencies of your child at school. Merely tell him calmly what the teacher reports, without abuse or punishment; and don't tug at his heartstrings. Just assure the child that he is responsible to the teacher while at school, and that you will do your best to help him at home to get on well at school. Then set out to study your child to this end. Learn all you can about him from the teacher. Perhaps you will have him checked by your doctor. Try to help him at home to gain more success at school and to gain better habits of conduct, even with some punishment, if necessary, that will carry over to school. And be grateful for small signs of improvement after several weeks.

By MARSHALL MASLIN

"A LITTLE COURAGE AT FIRST"
OF ALL THE words that Thomas Paine wrote in his long and stormy life, I like best the paragraph he wrote in "The Crisis," to strengthen the wavering spirits of the American people in the darkest moments of independence.

It has been said that Paine had the weakness of all enthusiastic reformers: He miscalculated the number of sensible men in the world. But these words strengthen any man, sensible or not, anywhere. They would give heart to any sad woman, to any child.

Here is what he wrote: "I am not declaring war against every man that appears not so warm as myself. Some men can brave hardship and the risk of life with a cheerful face, others not; no slavery appears to them so great as the fatigue of arms, and no terror so powerful as personal danger. What can we say? We cannot alter nature, neither ought we to punish the son because the father begot him in a cowardly mood. I BELIEVE MOST MEN HAVE MORE COURAGE THAN THEY KNOW OF, AND THAT A LITTLE AT FIRST IS ENOUGH TO BEGIN WITH."

Courage feeds on courage. That much Thomas Paine knew. No man needs a great armful of courage in the beginning. A small match is enough to start a great fire, for good or for evil. You face a great chore, a great peril, and your knees tremble and your heart is afraid. You look around for the courage of a David facing a Goliath, and the mighty courage is not there.

Tom Paine reminds you that you have more courage than you know and that "a little at first is enough to begin with."

A little comfort, a little consolation, a little philosophy, a little beauty, a little happiness, a little endurance, a little strength—these are all you need AT FIRST. Put them to work and they will grow. Face a great peril with a little boldness, accept a great loss with a little strength, and you will soon find that you have more courage than you thought—enough to take any man or woman unflinchingly through life.

A few months ago it was announced that income tax return blanks must be filled out by all men in the service who had incomes over the amounts fixed by law. A young officer, whose own salary was $2,500 a year, found one of his recruits puzzling several evenings in succession over the complicated blank. Offering his assistance, the officer was met with the blushing hesitation of the youth. The officer finally got into the "document" with the boy, when it developed that the net income of this particular recruit was more than $60,000.

"But, please, sir," begged the recruit, when the truth came out, "don't give me away to the other fellows. I wouldn't want them to know it for the world. I'm having the time of my life."

The officer promised, and the young man with $60,000 a year continues to bunk in barracks between two boys, his best chums, one of whom was born and reared on his father's farm and another whose widowed mother is doing washing for the neighbors in a small Illinois village. And there is not the slightest artificial distinction among them.

Dear Miss Market—To whom should birth announcements be sent? In the case of the first born, should they be sent to all who attended the wedding of the parents?—Puzzled.

Two Dangers Face World.
Armament And Inflation Feared.
Manufacturers May Give Credit.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

TREMENDOUS NEW PRES-TIGE, of course, comes to President Roosevelt with the bowing of the large industrial corporations to John L. Lewis' industrial unions. And tremendous prestige comes to John L. Lewis. We read that in many columns of type.

But two mighty dangers threaten to sweep out of all mankind's gains—the most terrible armament race in history (which can readily turn into the most terrible war) and inflation, with resultant collapse.

Behind the scenes in Washington, there is deepening worry over the international picture. Behind the scenes in the great banking houses of the world, there is deepening worry over the ability of the world to stand the financial strain that is to come.

Debts of the leading countries in the world are rising by billions, not by millions.

"Prosperity" that we see on every hand is occasioned largely by government spending and inflation. Much of the government spending is on armaments, which has no productive return. It is purely destructive.

Can the man who brought capital and labor together in peace in the United States have any influence on the mad nations of the world?

Or, rather, can he or someone else arouse the peoples of the world to unite for peace, in revolt against their own rulers? Can years of prejudice, years of nationalistic poison be dissipated with truth and understanding and tolerance without a few months' war?

Even "a few months' war" may be too late. So close to the abyss are the mad men of Europe.

HITLER'S POLICY?

We read that Hitler is trying to embarrass still further in continental Europe a financially embarrassed France. He hopes to bring France to its knees financially, so as to wreck the League of Nations, and likewise end France's influence on the continent. But Germany itself is a beggar financially. And it has no rich uncle, such as France has in Great Britain. Thus Nazi schemes are likely to fail.

Germany and Italy are finding themselves in a tight spot. They began this rearmament race, and now France, Russia and Great Britain are determined to outpace them—and will. Great Britain, at eventual cost to its own standards of living, will spend three or four dollars to one that Italy can spend. Italy remains a poor country.

LOANS?

Can there, will there be loans from the United States? There can't be, under the Johnson act, to any nation which has defaulted on its debt to the United States.

But American manufacturers, with the aid of American banks, can and will extend credit for war supplies. And part of the American "prosperity" at the present time is due to that.

American industry is and will be on the side of Great Britain, neutrality law or no neutrality law, for it is Britain that is buying heavily in the United States.

And American sympathies will be with the "democratic" nations, for America, under the "Roosevelt evolution" is heading toward democracy in a larger sense. It fears Naziism and fascism—and fascism fears it.

With these forces at work, swayed by emotionalism, can the United States itself remain sober and sane—or will it join the madmen?

MONDAY, MARCH 8.
Notable Nativities—Eugene Devlan, b. 1891 in Denver, author of novels and movies known as Gene Fowler. . . Stuart Chase, b. 1888 in Somersworth, N. H., economist and author—Rich Land, Poor Land, etc. . . Edgar Ansel Mowrer, b. 1892 in Bloomington, Ill., American correspondent in Europe. . . Frederic William Goudy, b. 1865, also in Bloomington, Ill., internationally famous typographer and designer of printing types. Originally he was an accountant.

Today's Yesterdays—Mar. 8, 1658—The first newspaper advertisement was published, in the Imperial Intelligencer in London. It offered a reward for return of two strayed or stolen horses.

75 Years Ago Today—The Confederate man-of-war Virginia, once known as Merrimack, a makeshift contrived out of a half-burned and sunken hulk, destroyed the wooden frigates U. S. S. Cumberland and U. S. S. Congress in Hampton Roads, and proved the day of wooden fighting ships was over. For it was iron-clad, invulnerable to cannon balls.

Next day, the new contraption of John Ericsson, the Monitor, a "cheesebox on a raft," hurried into Hampton Roads to protect the frigate Minnesota and do battle with the Virginia. In that historic four-hour engagement, erroneously known as the battle of the Monitor and the Merrimack, neither ship was able to do serious damage to the other, and no lives were lost, but the events of these two days caused the London Times to declare that England's naval supremacy, as represented by effective naval force, had vanished overnight.

You're wrong if you believe that the Virginia or Monitor was the first metal warship. The U. S. Michigan, later the Wolverine, launched at Erie, Pa., in 1844, was an iron-clad. It was 18 years, however, before there was a demonstration of the superiority of iron to wood in warships.

March 8 Among State Histories: 1844—John C. Fremont, 31, reached Sutter's Fort, Calif., completing exploration of an overland route from Missouri river to Pacific. 1855—First Niagara suspension bridge was opened. 1890—North Dakota Agricultural College was founded.

It's True—You're wrong if you believe that the simple diet, or "more natural" habits, is the explanation for the comparatively low death rate among the civilized portions of the world. Cancer is a disease of old age, and savages don't live long enough to die of cancer.

Taxicab Strike In Chicago Is In Fourth Day

Extra-Police Squads Established, Attempt Will Be Made To Operate Cabs

(International News Service) CHICAGO, March 8.—Extra police squads cruised Chicago's Loop today to prevent possible outbreaks of violence as the city's taxicab strike entered its fourth day.

Widespread rumors the Yellow Cab and Checker companies would restore taxi service today, were believed to have led to the precautionary move.

Thomas B. Hogan, president of the Yellow company, predicted "normal service with 24 hours." He said many groups of drivers had offered to return to work, and it was indicated cabs would be put on the streets with guards accompanying the drivers.

Hogan and Michael M. Sokol, president of the Checker company, challenged strike leaders to prove their contention that the majority of the city's 5400 drivers had joined the newly formed Midwest Taxicab Drivers' Union. Hogan insisting that only a small majority of the drivers are actually striking.

Officials of both companies have declared a willingness to negotiate with the striking drivers, and it is expected a peace conference would be held today.

Resolutions On Roads Adopted

Shenango Township Supervisors Want Highway Funds Diverted To Township Use

WANT ROADS IN TOWNSHIP HANDS

Resolutions have been adopted by the Shenango Township Road Supervisors, approving the adoption of House Bill No. 896, which would divert highway funds to the use of cities, borough, and townships, on a mileage and population basis and protesting the passage of House Bills No. 639 and 657, which would give the state control over the fifty thousand miles of township roads.

It is contended that there are more than sixty thousand miles of city, borough and township roads, which are maintained at the expense of the taxpayers, which roads carry more than half the traffic and whose residents contribute more than half the revenues of the Motor Fund.

It is urgent, they state, that the tax on property for road and street purposes be substantially reduced because the taxpayer is carrying the major portion of the tax burden for schools and other local government functions.

Under the terms of House Bill No. 896, $68,000,000 would be appropriated from the motor fund for use in improving and maintaining city, borough, and township roads.

It is contended that state control of township roads, as proposed under Bills 639 and 657 would retard their improvement, increase the cost of overhead and administration so that an increase in motor taxes would be necessary, would disrupt the building industry, and throw thousands of men out of employment. It would further prevent the cities, boroughs, and townships from receiving their share of the Motor Funds, which is urgently needed for the improvement of their roads.

A fact of interest to smokers: Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

SPARK-PLUG of the Detroit Red Wings is Herb Lewis. "I keep an eagle eye on my digestion," Herb says. "Camels top off a good meal."

Modern life often pushes us to the limit. At such times especially, smoking Camels is an aid to digestion. Camels help to ease tension and speed up the flow of digestive fluids—alkaline digestive fluids—that play so vital a part in the way you enjoy food and in the way food agrees with you. Camels are milder—an important point with steady smokers. With their finer tobaccos, Camels are gentle to your throat.

Small City Papers Have High Mechanical Standards, Pitt Journalism Class Survey Shows

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 8.—Mechanical standards of smaller city daily newspapers in Pennsylvania approach the journalistic ideal, according to a survey just completed by students in journalism at the University of Pittsburgh.

Thirty daily papers from western and central Pennsylvania cities were studied by Pitt students in an effort to determine length of first paragraphs, kinds of words used, and differences in style between general news, society news and sports news.

One conclusion reached is that readers of the papers studied do not have to spend time reading long, tiresome, uninteresting first paragraphs. The average "lead," or first paragraph, contains only 33 words, or about one inch of type. Succinct paragraphs were also noted.

Sports stories were found to be no more verbose than general news articles; whereas society page stories had the longest average "leads"—38 words.

Nouns prevailed as the first words in opening paragraphs, 46 per cent of the first sentences starting with this part of speech. Verbs were used as starting words in only six per cent of the leads, although verbs and nouns are generally regarded as the best first words.

Twenty-five per cent of the first sentences in the lead paragraphs started with "weak" words: "the," "a," and "an."

Among the newspapers studied were: Altoona Mirror, Beaver Falls News-Tribune, Bradford Era, Butler Eagle, Brownsville Telegraph, Charleroi Mail, Canonsburg Daily Notes, Connellsville Courier, Ellwood City Ledger, Erie Daily Times, Franklin News-Herald, Lancaster New Era, Oil City Derrick, Warren Times-Mirror, Punxsutawney Spirit, Erie Dispatch-Herald, Beaver Times, Homestead Messenger, Johnstown Democrat, Monongahela Republican, Latrobe Bulletin, Jeannette News-Dispatch, McKeesport Daily News, Tarentum Valley News, New Kensington Dispatch, Ambler Citizen, New Castle News, Sharon Herald, Greensburg Review and Uniontown Herald-Genius.

Man Found Dead Near Willow Grove

Thomas Shorts, Negro, Discovers Lying In Ditch By Children Saturday

Thomas Edward Shorts, colored, aged 54, who lived with his sister, Mrs. Rachel Johnson, of R. F. D. No. 8, was found dead, lying in a ditch near his sister's home, on the road leading southwest from Willow Grove, Saturday afternoon by children residing in the vicinity.

The children notified Mrs. William McKinley, who lives nearby, and she summoned her father, Orrin Vance, and Harry Cameron, who investigated. Finding that Shorts was dead, they notified Coroner Orville Potter and Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard, who went to the scene.

Slide Removal
Under Way Near
Willow GrovePennsy Tracks Still Blocked By Giant Hill Slide Of Month Ago

Working steadily with a steam shovel and a crew of men, a total of 916 dump cars of earth have been removed from the hill slide at the "Hump" yards of the Pennsylvania railroad near Willow Grove, during the past month.

According to C. E. Brinser, engineer in charge of this removal, this crew has hauled 20,000 cubic yards of earth to a place near Wampum where it has been dumped.

During the heavy rains of a month ago, the earth was loosened and let a mammoth portion of the hill slide down onto the tracks, blocking two tracks and making it necessary to build spur tracks to take the trains around the affected territory.

Plans are now being formulated for the drainage of this area. A large number of underground springs break out at this point, and it is hoped that a plan may be devised whereby future slides may be averted.

First Baptist Makes
Big Record Sunday

With 151 gold nuggets tucked in their money belt, the largest number acquired by any one of the participating Sunday schools for any one Sunday in the increase campaign known as the "Gold Rush" sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School association, the First Baptist Sunday school went to town in a big way Sunday, March 7th. This was a thirty per cent increase in yesterday's attendance over their average attendance for last year.

Every one of the eleven Sunday Schools found gold in the hills of New Castle, and this fifth Sunday with 552 nuggets for the day and a total of 1629 nuggets to date, was by far the banner Sunday of the campaign which closes Easter Sunday, March 28th. The average percentage increase over the average attendance for 1936 for the five Sundays is 55, or an average gain per Sunday in attendance of eleven per cent.

To show how alert the Sunday schools are, a teacher was sent to the "Sit-Down-Strikers" in the person of Rev. Thos. B. Shearer who taught them the Sunday school lesson and secured a record of those that belonged to the various participating Sunday schools so that all would receive credit.

In addition to the First Baptist the following Sunday schools reached their high water mark yesterday: the Croton M. E., the First Christian, the Mahoningtown Presbyterian, the St. John's Lutheran and the Central Christian.

The East Brook M. E. Sunday school, the only Sunday school outside of New Castle taking part, while not competing with New Castle is giving them pointers in how to get results. Yesterday's attendance was one and one-half times greater than the average for 1936. Special recognition will be given this Sunday school at the close of the campaign.

These figures tell the story:

What are known as tidal waves

aren't tidal. E. C. Galveston, Tex., asked for further explanation of this statement. Genuine tidal waves are formed by earthquakes, storms of high winds. They often occur when the weather at the point at which they strike is calm. When they hit land they may be as high as 115 feet. A tidal wave that swept up from the Strait of Sundra in 1883, drowned 36,000 persons. What is usually referred to as a "tidal wave", however, actually is a storm wave.

The audience was made up of men and women who looked as though they had pawned their watches to obtain a ticket and the tickets were $6.00 each; they were only $2.00 apiece, but they were real lovers of music. Germans and those of whom there are many in San Diego—children of Spaniards and Indians. Most of them knew the language in which "La Boheme" was sung. They appreciated the joyous Bohemian conversation of the principals, sung wonderfully well, and the "Bravos" that greeted the arias were spontaneous and worthwhile, but I saw only one gentleman in evening clothes.

It carried me back to the days when I used to sit in the balcony of Carnegie Music Hall on Sunday evenings in New York. The odor of garlic was very strong there, but there were the music critics of New York, and the then director of the Metropolitan Opera House said that unless a new singer in those Sunday evening concerts received the applause and "Bravos" from those in the gallery, that the singer could never expect a contract with the Metropolitan.

Sale Of Kirk
Mansion HaltedDaughter Secures Injunction To Halt Proceedings At Home
In Sewickley

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 8.—Sale of the 65-room mansion of David M. Kirk, together with the contents of the household, which had been arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Kirk under the auctioneer's hammer, was halted Saturday, when an injunction was asked by Mrs. W. K. Jenne, a daughter.

The preliminary injunction will restrain the auctioneer from selling any more of the Kirk possessions pending a hearing Wednesday.

The injunction proceedings recalled events in 1934, when some of the treasured heirlooms of the Kirk family were sold at public auction, together with a portion of the Kirk estate, in the swanky section of Sewickley. The land was bought by a real estate company for development, but was later sold to the Union Trust company of Pittsburgh, the realtors realizing a profit of $8,000 on the transaction.

Mr. Kirk is a former explosives and cement manufacturer, but is now retired from active business life.

McIntyre Finds

SEEK TO BRING
ABSINTHE BACK

NEW YORK, March 8.—Diary of a Frenchman, who is trying to introduce French liquor into the United States, is the subject of a new book by G. O. McIntyre, author of "The Frenchman's Boy". The book is a collection of letters and diary entries from a Frenchman who lived in New York for many years. The letters are addressed to his daughter, Mary, and his son, Ray, who are living in New York. The diary entries are from the Frenchman's time in New York. So for a snack with Harry Burton and at my mail. Finding a bid to Panny Holtzmann's tea to Lady Grosvenor, a suggestion from Mervyn LeRoy to write a cinema about him and an engaging letter from Frank of the Paris Ritz about the changes that come to old rue Cambon.

At dusk with my dog to the park, who grows hysterical yipping at the stately swans in the lake. And for the play with Henry Bell, then dinner with my wife and to hear Joe Smith fiddle at Montparnasse. And later to sit with Albert Keller and see the floor show in the Ritz Crystal Room.

Memory. Making a mandarin attachment to the parlor piano by putting tissue paper on the felt pads of the keys.

France is trying to introduce its famous aperitif, byrrh, to drinkers in America. It has long been a favorite cocktail of the established French resident but created little furore among Yank tourists. Those red signs containing the single word "Byrrh" are probably the most profuse of all Gallic advertisements next to Chocotat Memento. The liquor has a slightly acid quinine taste and chugs a do-si-do. The family that sponsors it is third richest in France.

France, too, is trying to restore absinthe to its countrymen. A move to repeal the ban of 1915 and bring back that glowy late afternoon period known as "theure sainte de l'absinthe." The drink was abolished because it was believed growing use had lowered the birth rate. Today the birth rate continues to decline without absinthe. It was the favorite drink of Left Bank artists and poets. Oscar Wilde is supposed to have fallen under its spell. Verlaine, of course, wrote some of his best stuff at its side. But he was a tough old bird. Charles Cros wrote an entire volume of verses singing praises of the drink.

In the days of absinthe in New York, the most celebrated cache for the absinthe drip was the mellow old Brevort on lower 5th avenue. The receipt was from the Absinthe House in New Orleans. There are no records of any pronounced addiction among the notable literary sippers of that day. Marie Corelli's "Wormwood," a tragedy of absinthe, did much to legalize it out of the bars. George Ade paid lyrical tribute with his song, "At the first cool sip, on the fevered lip, etc."

Personal nomination for the screechiest of the new radio howlers, Martha Raye. I heard today of a most unusual phobia. Fortunately the victim is a man of means. He will wear nothing after it has been laundered. Otherwise, he is perfectly normal and has been so successful he retired before 50. His shirts, under wear, hose and pajamas, after a first wearing, are sent to a charity. He has not especial fear of germs but simply cannot stand to wear anything that has been washed and ironed. He must have it brand new. Clemence Dane, English novelist, never uses a handkerchief but once.

Bagatelles: Peter Dixon is the youngest of the radio script writers. Achmet Abdullah can drop his monocle from his eye into his vest pocket without touching it. Lily Pons likes artichoke cod with mayonnaise for breakfast. Gospel means good tidings. Members of the Danish King's Guard are paid $80 a month. Rudy Vallee's throat lozenges are $5 a small box. E. Phillips Oppenheim has become an anglophobe. There's a Patsy Kelly case in the block where she was born. Rex Beach, as a story teller, is one of radio's newest and biggest bets. Sinclair Lewis no longer answers fan mail.

Tough tootsie: The feet of the hill women in the Ozarks after years of hopping rocks without shoes naturally become calloused. Charlie Edison recalls that venerable one of a gnarled old woman, barefoot, standing close to the fireplace. The old man nearby nodding. Finally he said: "Maw, you all is standing on a live coal." Without ever turning her head, the old lady inquired: "Which foot, paw?"

Since the recommendation of the grand jury that a wing be built to the court house, a number of former arguments for the improvement have come to the front again. The idea of at least two of the county commissioners is to build a wing on the east side of the building, fronting on Court street.

Another suggestion has been made which is not entirely new and that is to purchase the property just west of the court house, tear down the home now upon the land, add a substantial wing to this side in conformity with the architectural design of the court house and then make an entrance off County Line street.

The argument advanced for this is that it would make easier access to the court house, permit the addition of a wing large enough to accommodate all county governmental activities. In addition the proponents of the plan argue that it would provide a lot of parking space around the court house. It is suggested that the government would give the county a grant of money for nearly half of the improvement and that the other half could be borrowed and paid back without any increase in taxes.

Carl K. Devlin on Saturday filed an appeal from the assessment on two pieces of property owned by him on Neshannock avenue. He states that the assessments, $21,500 and $14,250, are entirely out of line and asks a hearing. The hearing is set for March 29.

Joseph Fabich, a minor of six years, by his parents, Jacob and Anna Fabich, who also sue in their own right, asks for $15,581 damages arising out of an automobile accident on November 11, 1936. The injuries are said to have been severe.

Beware The Cough
From a common cold That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you get no relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Wild Cherry and Menthol, but also has fluid extract of Pecan for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion is continuously taken frequently and with remarkable results.
Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

REPORT ITALIAN LINER ENCOUNTERS BAD STORM

Passengers Hurt During Voyage

Report Some Americans Among Those Injured Aboard Ship

CENSORSHIP HIDES DETAILS OF AFFAIR

By FRANK GERVASI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, March 8.—Five American passengers were injured during the two-day pounding the Italian luxury liner Rex received in a violent tempest on her latest trip from New York, it was reliably reported today.

Three of the Americans were said to be in serious condition, with one so badly injured he may bring to five the total of lives lost as the 51,000-ton ship tossed about on 60-foot waves.

At least 60 more passengers, slapped about in their cabins, thrown to the deck, or hammered around in companionways were suffering from severe bruises, cuts, sprains and in some cases bone dislocations.

Censorship Over Mishap

A veritable censorship, however, made it extremely difficult to secure information regarding the trip, said to have been one of the hardest Atlantic crossings in recent shipping annals. Names of the dead, understood to be three passengers and a cabin boy, were not available. Italian line officials and police at Naples, the first port touched by the Rex in Italy, would say nothing.

The cabin boy lost his life trying to save others.

He was patrolling companionways trying to keep passengers from leaving their cabins when a huge wave lifted the Rex, crushing out his life against a steel wall.

Two of the dead passengers were reported to be Americans, who were fatally injured when hurled against steel bulkheads. How the fourth person met death was not learned.

Deaths Not Confirmed

American consular officials boarded the Rex at Naples, but would not confirm the death of any Americans.

The Rex encountered rough weather soon after leaving New York, but the worst of the wintry gale bore down soon after the big ship, once holder of the blue ribbon of the Atlantic, passed the Azores Islands.

For 48 hours the Rex battled immense waves, while scores of passengers were made ill, ship life was disrupted, and considerable minor damage was caused.

The Rex, however, was able to continue her voyage to Genoa after calling at Naples.

At Gibraltar she picked up two injured sailors from the Italian steamer Yolanda, which sank off the coast of Portugal.

Numerous rumors spread quickly, due to lack of concrete information, but reports of an explosion aboard the Rex, allegedly due to sabotage, were denied by port authorities.

Old Bake Ovens May Be Rebuilt At Valley Forge

Plan To Rebuild Bake Ovens Which Furnished Washington's Army With Food

(International News Service)

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., March 8.—Old Washington Inn in Valley Forge Park, whose bake ovens supplied Washington's impoverished Continental army during the severe winter of 1777-78, is threatened with demolition. Its proprietor, Daniel J. Vorhees, has reiterated, however, he won't give up the place without a fight. The Valley Forge Park commission plans to raze the buildings so that the bake ovens, located in the cellar, may be restored.

Eckert Seeks Lower Navy Expenditures

Votes For Proposal To Limit Expenditures To $400,000,000—Amendment Lost

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8.—Representative Charles R. Eckert, of Beaver, was one of the few Democrats who bolted administration leaders last week and unsuccessfully sought to force a reduction in navy expenditures.

As reported by the house appropriations committee and favored by administration leaders the 1938 supply bill for the navy authorized expenditure of $526,555,428. A small group of economy-minded Democrats and Republicans sought to amend the measure and cut the expenditures to $400,000,000. They were defeated by an overwhelming vote of 257 to 83.

Congressman Eckert was one of those who voted for the $400,000,000 amendment. Earlier the congressman had voted with a group which defeated an amendment authorizing the president to call an international disarmament conference.

Auto Club Favors Large Road Patrol

Modernization Of State Highways Offered As Means Of Reducing Accidents

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 8.—Creation of a state safety commission, a larger state highway patrol, and modernization of state highways are urged by the Keystone automobile club as a means of reducing the mounting death toll on the Commonwealth's highways.

"We do not maintain that a highway safety commission is a cure-all," declared J. Maxwell Smith, general manager of the club, "but we do maintain that a commission clothed with sufficient powers can accomplish what is not being accomplished under present conditions."

"We do not assert that an increase in the highway patrol will automatically halt accidents, but we point to proof, obtainable in this and other states, that adequately patrolled highways are safe highways."

Old Relics Found By WPA Workmen

Historic Articles Belonging To Cousin Of Poet Walt Whitman Unearthed

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—Fragments of the Elm tree beneath which William Penn signed his famous treaty with the Indians in the days when Philadelphia was a small settlement of Quakers have been unearthed here by WPA workers.

The relics turned up in a wooden chest, once owned by John Flannery Whitman, a cousin of Walt Whitman, noted American poet. Tucked away in the cellar of a house formerly owned by John Whitman, who died last year, the chest also contained the unrecorded portrait of poet Walt, and a miniature by Charles Wilson Peale, the artist.

Third U. P. Pastor And Wife To Make Visit To Palestine

Rev. And Mrs. Yeates Expect To Sail From New York City On April 2

Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates, pastor of the Third U. P. church, and Mrs. Yeates are planning to sail from New York City on the Bremen, April 2, to visit Palestine and the mission stations in Egypt.

They expect to be gone for three months, April, May and June, and will be accompanied on the journey by Rev. and Mrs. Will W. Orr of Beaver Falls. Rev. Orr is pastor of the United Presbyterian church of that city.

In Palestine the party will have for guide Najib Khoury of Nablus, seminary classmate of Rev. Yeates. Numerous points of interest in the Mediterranean region will be visited. After leaving New York the first stop will be at Cherbourg, France.

Rev. and Mrs. Yeates are looking forward to the trip from an educational viewpoint and the while it might be considered as a rest also, its main purpose is for broadening. The Third U. P. minister and Rev. Orr both intend the Holy Land visit to be a post-graduate course in their theological studies, an investment as well as vacation.

The Third U. P. pulpit will be supplied by capable men during the pastor's absence.

the city because most of the pickpockets have either passed out of existence or are directing their talents along other lines. In the days prior to prohibition pickpocketing was frequent. Many of the pickpockets joined up with operations affecting illegal liquor. Since then pickpocketing has been on the way out, it is reported.

It is not likely that the city will find it necessary to borrow more than the authorized $100,000 before taxes begin pouring in at a fast rate. Usually the city borrows that amount to pay current debts but finds it unnecessary to borrow from banks after April 1.

Many Groups Plan Meetings This Year In Philadelphia

Record Number of Conventions Scheduled For Philadelphia During 1937

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 8.—Philadelphia's leadership as a convention city is due this year to acquire new prestige in view of the large number of organizations scheduled to meet here, officials believe.

In 1937 the city will play host to more visitors than at any time since the depression, Frank L. Devine of the chamber of commerce indicated. A new high mark may be established because of the fact that so many national organizations are coming here to join in the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the constitution.

Last year, according to Devine, 206 conventions were assembled here with an estimated out-of-town attendance of 179,221 persons who spent upwards of $10,000,000 in Philadelphia. The year's list included the Democratic national convention which nominated President Roosevelt. Since the first of this year many important national conventions have selected Philadelphia for their 1937 meetings.

Methodism Not Favorable To Court Proposal

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—Methodism denounced President Roosevelt's Supreme Court proposal Saturday as "executive seizure of the safeguards of American Government."

Continuing their bitter criticisms of the Chief Executive's plan "to seize control of the Supreme Court" delegates attending the 150th annual Philadelphia Methodist Episcopal Conference called on "lovers of liberty" to fight its adoption.

Sharply upon hotly worded debate the conference in its fourth day's session at Calvary church, 48th St. and Baltimore avenue, adopted a resolution assailing the plan as an "undisguised effort to seize control."

Stranded Girls Given Free Beds At Local Y

Many people seem surprised to know that the Y. W. C. A. furnishes free beds for any young girl who is in trouble. Sometimes this may be an unmarried expectant mother whose family have thrown her out, sometimes it is just a girl seeking a job in another community where she has relatives who say "dumb" her way to them. These girls are less numerous than they were a year ago because working conditions are better but the Y. W. C. A. is still the friend of any young girl or woman who is in trouble or needs a job or advice about how to train for a job.

The Y. W. C. A. is not just for homeless girls, nor only for girls who can "afford it"; not just for unemployed girls, nor, again, for only a select few. But a hospitality for all girls.

A cosmopolitan hospitality that recognizes cosmopolitan interests, that offers to a variety of girls a variety of interests, a variety of things to do—normal, modern activities—lest they seek them elsewhere.

What do girls seek in their leisure—swimming? clubs? social activities? craft? discussion?

What do they seek in trouble—advice? a place to sleep? friendship? opportunity?

Not just today but every day... it's open house at the Y. W. C. A. extending a warm, friendly hospitality to thousands of girls each year... a place to meet friends... to make friends... to do things... "to live".

Chloroform Used In Girl's Death Held As Illegal
Chloroform Was Deadly Poison, Kind Used To Kill Animals, Is Reported

(International News Service)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 8.—The chloroform which caused the death of 18-year-old Cleo Srouse was not the type used for anesthesia, but contained deadly poisons and was a kind usually used to kill animals, it was declared today by Dr. J. A. Waddell, professor of pharmacology at the University of Virginia.

His analysis of the chloroform was made at the request of authorities who are holding Dr. Richard G. Miller, 53-year-old dentist, on a charge of murdering the girl. Miller has admitted that he chloroformed the girl preparatory to an illegal operation, but declared that death was accidental.

Dr. Waddell said that the chloroform used by Miller contained phosphene, a deadly war-time gas, and hydrochloric acid, and was not the pure type which is prepared specially as an anesthetic to satisfy legal requirements.

Plant Unions Ask Conference With John Frey

Vice President Of A. F. Of L. Is Asked To Meet Plant Union Leaders

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 8.—Employment representatives of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation today sought the aid of an American Federation of Labor leader in their fight against John L. Lewis, Steel Workers Organizing committee.

Already rebuffed by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, they telegraphed a similar invitation to John Frey, vice president of the A. F. of L., asking him to come to Pittsburgh for a conference which may be of mutual benefit.

This development came as wage raises for the thousands of "white collar" workers in the industry have into the fight and while the employee representatives, in reality a committee of four with wide powers, continued conference with Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation officials for paid vacations and other concessions. Other steel companies began meanwhile to follow Carnegie-Illinois in granting raises to skilled and semi-skilled workers.

Shortly after court convened this morning there was some confusion in the court room. A woman saw her husband, who she claimed had left her. Talking volubly, the woman arose and started for the spot where her husband was. He left hurriedly and the woman followed him into the corridor. She was stopped by County Detective A. S. Leslie, and threatened to do him bodily harm if she caught up with him. She was placed in jail for a few hours to cool off. The incident had nothing to do with the case on trial.

It seems possible that the commonwealth may be able to open its case late today, depending upon whether or not the jury is selected. It is highly improbable that there will be any testimony adduced today.

Court room number one was not able to start operations this morning due to the selection of a jury in number two. It was expected that sometime this afternoon James Mooney would come up for trial on the charge of manslaughter arising out of the death of Dr. B. M. Mott in an automobile accident on the Wilmington road some weeks ago.

PRIMO CARNERA IS REPORTED MARRIED

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 8.—Along Bash Boulevard today we find... Fat Eddie Meade... begging father Al Well to accept $25,000 of Al Johnson's money... All Well has to do to get it, is to let his lightweight champion, Lou Ambers, crawl through the ropes with Johnson's Henry Armstrong...

Armstrong is here to flatten the very tough Aldo Spolli... For his Broadway debut... the colored lad from the coast is a little heavy for the feathers... and a little light for the lightweights... be he says he won't be any of the welterweights... including Barney Ross...

Henry is being billed as a second Terry McGovern... and seems to be taking in a lot of territory... but even the redoubtable Terry found his Young Corbett...

Laugh Is On Collins
Best laugh of the week... that fall tale out of Yale... which said Eddie Collins, Jr., "couldn't field quite as well as his old man but could outlast him..." Now, let's see league hitters of a dozen years ago Ruth, Speaker, Cobb and Eddie Collins among others?

Col. Jake Ruppert... Yankee owner... is all burned up... over Red Ruffing... Not so much because the big pitcher had nerve enough to demand 30 grand... as because he wrote in saying he would refuse to pitch hit any more...

Mike Jacobs gets out of the hospital today... and Col. John Kilpatrick... Garden prexy... says his lawyers will be ready to go into federal court in the next few days... to enjoin Jim Braddock from fighting Joe Louis...

The Broadway brigade hears that Primo Carnera is now a bridegroom... and the mob recalls that Primo is better than a green hand with a love letter... Remember those burning epistles he wrote that English girl... who collected some $14,000 for same?

And Professor Will McCarney insists the first thing a fight manager should learn is how to get "movement" money... "It's very necessary," says Nate Brown's old mentor, "especially when you have a hostile sheriff breathing down your neck..."

Some Lines From Yesteryear

Four errors, a base on balls and four hits enabled the First Baptists to score seven runs in the second inning of their game with the Second U. P. and win seven to four June 25, 1911, according to a Church league baseball record. The victory increased the lead of the First U. P. to a percentage of 777. The Central Presbyterian occupied second place with a percentage of .750 and the other teams stood in order First Baptists, Epworth M. E., Second U. P. and Croton M. E. Goodchild pitched for the Second U. P. and Rodgers hurried for the First Baptists. The batting order was: First Baptists, Thompson, c; Dye, s; Rodgers, p; Harris, lb; Black, 3b; Hollis, 2b; Whittach, c. f.; Bentley, 1. f. and Remley, r. f. Second U. P. Broadbent, 2b; L. Hammill, s; Coen, 1. f.; Morrison, c; F. Hammill, 1b; Donahy, c. f.; McCullough, sb; Rumbaugh, r. f. and Goodchild, p.

Recalling a recent line in this column about Romeo Pacelli's first fight, the informant reports that his opponent was Nancy Hilar and the scrap went seven rounds in what was known as the Billy Bowen orchard. As stated Romeo received 15 cents and he splurged his purse by buying two hot dogs and a bottle of pop. However, he was ill and his second, Frankie Merriam, devoured the two sandwiches and nibbled the pop...

Another informant comes along with a line to say that when Billy Machem was the first string quarterback at Ne-Ca-Hi he weighed only 116 pounds. He believes the year was 1919. Ross and Clair Kocher were big boys, likewise Henry Thompson and Joe Graham. Bill Coburn, former, Klee and Joe Hartman also were on the team he recalls.

Col. Jake Ruppert... Yankee owner... is all burned up... over Red Ruffing... Not so much because the big pitcher had nerve enough to demand 30 grand... as because he wrote in saying he would refuse to pitch hit any more...

Mike Jacobs gets out of the hospital today... and Col. John Kilpatrick... Garden prexy... says his lawyers will be ready to go into federal court in the next few days... to enjoin Jim Braddock from fighting Joe Louis...

Kirppus Quintet Wins Two Games At Ashtabula, O.

Kirppus Team Brings Home Tophy Cup, Will Represent Eastern U. S. At Detroit

The Kirppus basketball team of New Castle came home from Ashtabula, Ohio, Sunday night with a beautiful trophy cup emblematic of their fine achievement in winning the first Finnish-American basketball tournament at the Ohio city Saturday and Sunday.

In the first game the Kirppus handed the Finnish-American A. C. of Ashtabula a 41 to 25 upsetting, with Strausbaugh, F. Wainio, Jokinen and Dutkin the scoring stars of the engagement.

The second game was a real battle all the way with the locals having a 30 to 28 edge on the famous Sovinto A. C. with the famous Jaskela brothers in the lineup. The Sovinto A. C. had won the tourney two straight years and were confident that they could defeat the New Castle team. Again the work of Jokinen, Adams and E. Wainio brought the New Castle team through victorious.

Play At Detroit
The tourney victory gives the local Kirppus club the right to represent the Eastern section of the United States in the United States tourney at Detroit on April 3 and 4. ### Eau Claire Rifle Team Wins Match

Leo W. Hill With Excellent 195 String Tops Scorers In Close Match

Harold Miller, of the Eau Claire Rifle Club was loud in his praise of Leo W. Hill, of New Castle and F. Pugh of New Castle for their excellent shooting in the match that Eau Claire won from East Brady. Hill hit a 195 string and Pugh a 192 string. The Eau Claire won by two points over the fine East Bradyites.

The results of the shoot—East Brady: Wally 192, C. Nick 189, Barney 188, Hobaugh 190, Loudon 189—total 948.

Eau Claire: H. Miller, 191, B. Bell 186, D. Ren 186, Leo W. Hill 195, D. Pugh 192—total 950.

Both Leo W. Hill and D. Pugh are New Castle men who have been shooting with the Eau Claire team part of the time this winter and have turned in fine scores. Of course the 195 shot by Mr. Hill in the above match was just about the tops in small bore rifle shooting. There are very few scores over 195 turned in in match shooting.

Two men are among the best in this district and perhaps the country at small bore rifle shooting.

K. Pulaski Five Loses At Natrona

The K. Pulaski Big Five lost to the Natrona Falcons at the Natrona floor, 29 to 26. The game was close and hardfought in every period. The scoring stars of the battle were "Red" Boron for the Pulaskis and Strzeski for the Natronians.

The summary:

Keystones Take First Game Of Series For City And County Title

KELLY-ZINGARO AND KAWA STARS

The first leg of the city and county basketball championship series was won by the Keystone A. C. yesterday afternoon as they defeated the Polish Falcons, 22 to 18, at the Falcon court. The victory was an upset as the Falcons had been the favorites to cop the game on the strength of their excellent season's record.

The second game of the series will be played next Sunday at the Falcon hall. The Falcon Reserves won from the Johnson Bronzes in the first game of the menu, 22 to 18.

Joe Kelly, formerly with the Keystones, was back in the lineup and added six points to the Keystone score. Coach Andy "Coots" Venditto started his regular team. The Keys led the first period, 10 to 2, getting away to a fast start. The Falcons could not locate the hoops in the first period, but in the second period began popping them in and tied it up at 11-11 as the first half drew to a close.

Falcons Take Lead

The Falcons edged ahead at 17 to 16 as the third period closed after some fancy basketballing in which both teams threw caution to the winds. In the final period the Keys opened up with Kelly and Zingaro leading and soon had the lead in their favor. The Falcons could get but one point in the fourth period.

The Keys made six points. It was the final game for Petey Zingaro and he played a brilliant game, getting six points and playing a great defensive game at guard. He will undergo an emergency operation today and will be lost to the Keys for the rest of the year. Russ Kawa and Joe Augustyn were the stars for the Falcons with 12 of the points between them.

Good, Clean Game
Koszele had five points for the Keystones and he played a brilliant game, getting six points and playing a great defensive game at guard. He will undergo an emergency operation today and will be lost to the Keys for the rest of the year. Russ Kawa and Joe Augustyn were the stars for the Falcons with 12 of the points between them.

Breezy Sport Notes Around Pennsylvania

By DICK SHANER
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, March 8.—Two leather-pushers, one a 19-year-old kid and the other a former world's champion, will climb through the ropes at Pittsburgh's Duquesne Garden Thursday night. The kid is Billy Conn, up-and-coming self-confident middleweight. The other is Babe Risko, ex-middleweight champ.

Both have had parallel careers. Risko, an unknown Syracuse slugger, flashed into national prominence by besting Champ Teddy Yarosz one New Year's Day. Conn grabbed state-wide recognition recently by topping Fritz Zivic just a few hours after the boxing commission had named the latter as the state's No. 1 middleweight.

To date, Conn has won 25 fights in a row. In his entire career, which started about a year and a half ago, he has lost only five bouts. He dropped those when he first entered the cauliflower industry. On the other hand, Risko is a spongy, rough and tough fighter and holds quite a rich and varied experience in the ring. He has fought two middleweight champions and has suffered only one knockout in his career.

If Conn can top this hurdle successfully, it stamps him as top-notch material with a possibility of attaining a meteoric rise as did Joe Louis.

It's anxious youth against old man experience. Our pennies back the latter.

Scholastic basketball flashes into its final stage this week, setting the scene for the grand finale, the state championship game. Ere the week is out, the W. P. I. A. L. contenders will have their champions named and crowned. To speed up eliminations, this group books double-headers and gives fans a real treat in cage stuff. In the east and central areas, where schools are still faithful to Secretary Edmund P. Wicht's P. I. A. A. loop, slow eliminations are required before that pennant winner is hailed. In the west, Ford City is a good bet in the W. P. I. A. L. race, while Altoona looks good in the P. I. A. A. struggle. Coal township, a small eastern district which has annexed 29 consecutive games, is also a likely prospect in that division.

Polish Falcon Reserves Win From Bronzers

The Polish Falcon Reserves handed the Johnson Bronzes of the House-Indus league a setback yesterday afternoon at the Falcon hall, 22 to 18. The Falcons led in every period. It was 14 to 10 at the half. Eddie Koszele was the big scorer for the Falcons with eight points. Gabby Kendra had five.

Cooper, with 11 points, was the star for the Bronzers.

WHAT BIG LEAGUE TEAMS ARE DOING

(International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, March 8.—Connie Mack today declared a holiday for the Athletics after the 2-1 defeat dealt his boys yesterday by the Agrarians, smart native nine. It was the second defeat charged against the Mackmen since their invasion below the Rio Grande. The American leaguers were held to five hits.

Winter Haven, March 8.—Manager Jimmy Wilson, Coach Honus Lobert and Third Baseman Pinky Whitney today were prepared to start spring training and to give the Phils squad of 26 players a royal welcome when it arrives here tomorrow from Philadelphia. President Gerald P. Nugent will entrain with the squad preparatory to seasoning under Florida skies.

Douglas, Ariz., March 8.—The vanguard of the Pittsburgh Pirate baseball squad was scheduled to reach training camp today. Pitcher Cy Blanton and two rookies, Pitcher William Desmond and Catcher James Hillen, who joined the squad yesterday, rounded out the first squad to arrive at camp. Manager Harold "Pie" Traynor planned to work out his batmen for the first time this afternoon.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 8.—Only Lou Gehrig, Charley Ruffing and Joe DiMaggio were missing today as the New York Yankees squad here rose almost to full strength. Thirty-two players are now on hand, Frank Crosetti being among the latest arrivals. Intensive drill is scheduled for this week in preparation for the Yankees first exhibition game on Saturday, when they will meet the Boston Bees.

Clearwater, Fla., March 8.—Baseball fans among winter tourists here were given plenty of action on Sunday when Manager Burleigh Grimes sent 40 of his Dodgers into an 8-inning game. A side captained by Slaty Phelps defeated Pudge Gautreaux's detachment by a score of 6 to 4. Of eight pitchers in the game, Roy Henshaw's record was the best.

Havana, March 8.—The New York Giants today had their first victory since their arrival here over a Cuban professional team, winning Sunday 7 to 3 before a crowd of 7000. Carl Hubbell, Freddy Fitzsimmons and Harry Gumbert did the pitching for the Giants. It was Hubbell's first appearance on the mound this season and he received a big reception.

Orlando, Fla., March 8.—Pitcher Louie "Buck" Newsom of the Washington Senators is on his way to the Senators' training camp today. Newsom is facing a fine when he gets here, for Owner Clark Griffith, making himself clear in the matter, fumed:

"I told him he had to be here Sunday, not Monday—the $100 fine sticks."

The Senators worked out gingerly on Tinker field, every member of the squad except Stone, Wright and—of course—Buck Newsom having a hand in the labor.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL.

Meet some old friends on the street the other day . . . Saturday to be exact and they were all smiles . . . they were celebrating their 26th wedding anniversary . . . it was Karl B. Norris of the can works and of course his wife. "It seems like 50 years," said Karl and Mrs. Norris not to be out done, said . . . "I didn't know two people could live together that long . . . well they seemed happy in spite of their comments . . . the first 25 years are the hardest . . . good luck on the remaining 24."

Here is a game that is worth playing . . . it's called Inchy Pinchy . . . yours truly played the game Saturday night . . . it is a very interesting past time . . . I can't tell you how to play it now but if you really want to know before March 29th, see Ed Rummel . . . The game will be explained March 29th and not before . . . Was my face red.

Had a note come this morning that seems to me to be about the best idea that has reached this old desk in many days . . . the writer speaks about new concerns here in New Castle . . . he says that the business men don't want them here . . . surely that is not true . . . He also suggests that we invite new concerns here, the same as they are doing in Ellwood City . . . we have much more to offer a concern than Ellwood . . . come on you progressive boys and let's do something about New Castle . . . let's find out where our trouble lies . . . it's up to the young fellows to do this . . . is it the Chamber of Commerce or is it something else? . . . think about your future.

Remember a couple of weeks ago we said something about the Phone and the Mill . . . we said at the time we were not permitted to tell names . . . here are their names now . . . Mary Evans and Tubby Raha. It is better to tell the column than have it guess.

Remember the classified ads and you will profit.

Dr. Chas. Freeman At Westminster 42 Years

"I've been digging around here for the last 45 years, so I may as well dig a little bit more."

With this humorous statement, Dr. Charles Freeman, oldest member of the Westminster college faculty, picked up the shovel and proceeded to take his turn at helping to break ground for the new Ralph Gibson McGill memorial library.

To many people breaking ground for a building happens only once in a lifetime, but to Dr. Freeman it is merely part of a days work. The new library is the fourth building on Westminster's campus in which Dr. Freeman had a part in the ground-breaking activities.

Back in 1921, when Dr. Freeman was serving his 30th year as a member of the college faculty, he took part in the ground-breaking services for the gymnasium. In 1927, he helped in the ground-breaking activities for Robert Audley Browne Hall. And he again tossed a shovel full of dirt aside in 1927 when construction began for Old Main Memorial, main building on the Westminster campus.

An addition to the Science hall made shortly after Dr. Freeman started teaching here 45 years ago, but at that time was not the custom to have services prior to the beginning of construction.

It was forty-two years ago, in 1893 that Charles Freeman, a tough bodied, keen-minded young man, fresh from a year's study at Johns-Hopkins, made a long, dusty stage-coach trip to Westminster college to apply for a job teaching "mathematics, chemistry, biology, and physics."

The college at that time was small and the young scientist looked at the job as only a temporary resting-place, if he was hired. Well, he got the job, began lecturing in a small, dark room laboratory in the gymnasium, and continued to lecture for forty-two years. Over 2,000 students have sat in his classes during those years, and as time passed and science found a place in the sun, the mat's-biology and physics broke up in 1907, and Dr. Freeman, former timber-chopper as a youngster in hemlock forests of Meadville, became head of the chemistry department of Westminster college.

Before coming to Westminster, "Charley" Freeman had attended the old district school of Espyville, from November until March, later walking six miles back and forth daily to Linesville high school, six miles from the Freeman farm. During the winter months, Charley missed school many times to work in lumber camps. At 20, he entered Allegheny College, Meadville. Making college in three years, he taught in 1891 at Union City high school, physics, physical geography and science. A year of high school teaching stimulated young Freeman's ambition, and he went to Dickinson seminary at Williamsport to teach zoology, chemistry, astronomy and physics. From Williamsport he went in 1893 in the pioneer graduate school in science, Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, Md., for a year's study; and then to Westminster in 1894 to begin the first of 42 years of service in the teaching of science.

Professor Freeman has been a maker of men as well as a scholar. He is essentially human himself, keeps up with world-problems as well as scientific ones; fishes and hunts; plays golf, still likes to read Tennyson's bovisly idealistic "Idylls of the King." He never fails to win the heart and mind of his students. Throughout Dr. Freeman's forty-two years at Westminster, he has been primarily a teacher rather than a scholar... more interested in moulding future scientists than in doing personal research work. To hundreds of science majors, Dr. Freeman has emphasized one general principle—method. Thousands of laboratory hours have been spent in laying the groundwork for good, solid graduate study, and many ranking scientific thinkers in government positions, college department heads and leading industrial chemists... men who learned chemistry under Dr. Freeman... emphasize the necessity and importance of that early scientific training.

For 25 years, Dr. Freeman has been a member of the American Chemical society, and for the same period of time has been a fellow in the American association for the advancement of science. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity; Phi Beta Kappa; the Masonic order and the Shrine.

He is a member of the United Presbyterian church, New Wilmington. From 1907 to 1932, Dr. Freeman was Dean of Westminster college and twice, 1915-16 and 1931-32 he has been inter-regnum president of the college.

Dr. R. F. Galbreath, present president of Westminster took his chemistry work under Dr. Freeman.

Emulton Resident Is In Hospital At Butler

BUTLER, Pa., March 8.—Grover C. Best, 54, employee of the Pennsylvania Gas company of Emulton, was found lying in a swamp three miles north of Butler, 18 hours after he became ill and wandered away from his car.

Best came to Butler to purchase supplies at the W. H. Larkin company here. While in the store he complained of a severe headache. He started north in the afternoon. When he reached Barney's place, a roadside lunch on route No. 8, he stopped to obtain headache tablets.

Because of his illness, he called friends in Emulton and asked that someone be sent to drive him home. He left Barney's Place before the arrival of the driver. State troopers, who had searched the woods in the vicinity for hours discovered him in the swamp. He was taken to the Butler County Memorial hospital, where his condition was reported critical as result of exposure and the illness with which he was stricken.

More than 400 Chinese laborers who were in the World War on the side of the Allies have arrived in Shanghai, driven back to China by unemployment and the hardships they encountered abroad, most of them returning from Russia.
